History Working Group Recommendations May 3, 2018

The History Working Group engaged in a semelsteg process of research and learning about the history of Bryn Mawr and of listening to each other and to the many stakeholders of the College who engaged with us through letteres sages, and listening sessions. We did not start our work with trying to answer the question: "What shall we recommend?" We started with "What do we need to learn?"

We reviewed archival documents, consider the social and intellectual contexts of the College's founding, learned bout M. Carey Thomas and her vision for Bryn Mawr, listened mmunity members' perceptions
